

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free. The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

SEEING SIGNS.

Though 'tis early in the season For the prophets to commence, Those who always say the winter Will be long, with cold intense, They're already getting busy And declare they're seeing signs That we'll have much fright weather On the famed old fashioned lines.

They ignore all rules of science In predictions that they make, And they sneer at all the prophets Who such observations take, For to nature they are going, And the signs that they see are to them proof most convincing That the winter time will be.

They have watched the squirrels storing Nuts on which to later feast, They've seen signs in vegetation And the hide and fur of beast From these they have drawn conclusions, Which they say are never wrong, And they're telling us that winter Will be mighty cold and long.

'Tis a prospect most distressing That these signs now point out, And regarding which they're saying There is not the slightest doubt, And they note with satisfaction That it harrows up the soul Of their fellow human beings Who must pay for gas and coal.

But 'tis wise to view with caution The predictions that they make, For they, like the other prophets, Very often make a break, Though they say the signs they're seeing Mean a winter cold and long, It is likely they will later See just where they got it wrong—Theodore H. Boice in Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

If you know the direction of camp the some strip of white rag to a tree and they start off. You can find the compass points by remembering that moss always grows on the north side of trees. Keep tying strips of rag to trees as you go on. Then you can find your way back to the starting point if you should fail to strike the path that leads to safety.

HUMOR

THEY MET AGAIN.

A Tale of a Summer Romance at the Seashore.

As he pushed his luncheon check and a quarter of a dollar through the cashier's window he happened to glance up. "Why, Gertie—I mean Miss Ross," he exclaimed, "I need not say I am astonished to see you here. I wrote to you at—did you get my letter?" he asked anxiously.

"Oh, I got it all right," she answered sweetly, passing back a dime in change. "It is in my bureau drawer at home. But I shan't pay any attention to the nice things you said," she continued, with a blush. "I wasn't responsible for the girls down at S'conset telling you I was the only daughter of a rich contractor any more than you were for the man who drove the stage to the station telling me you were not a Wall Street broker, but a collector for the gas company."

"But, Miss Gertie, I—I—" "It is all right, Mr. Summerman. Please don't stop to talk here. You are blocking the line. But if you care to call on us in Harlem I'm sure mamma will be glad to see you. You know the address. I didn't answer your letter because you don't live at the address you gave me. I have a friend who boards there, and she knows a friend of yours."

"Well," he muttered as he wandered dreamily away, "I've rung in a change on the haughty girl seaside romance business anyway."—New York Times.

An Active Assistant.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, "but may I ask where you got the title of professor? Are you a teacher?" "Sort of an assistant teacher, yes," replied the man in the loud clothes, "assistant to a great teacher." "And who is that?" "Experience. Men are taught by experience that it is impossible to beat the faro game, and I assist experience."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Claim Against the Shah.

The French architect Philippe Merlat was commissioned by the shah of Persia to build a pavilion for his majesty on the exposition grounds in 1900, but he has, it is said, never been able to collect a franc in payment. The French courts being unable to aid him, he has appealed to The Hague peace tribunal to help him in obtaining a settlement of his claim.

Effect of Athletic Exercises on Girls.

It is beginning to be suspected, says the Chicago Record-Herald, that the gymnastic exercises which make a young man graceful and supple and vigorous tend to produce in a young woman leanness and stiffness and angularity, besides being a menace to the delicate adjustments of her anatomy, and it has been discovered to be clearly evident that a girl's college yell should without a doubt be set to music.

SELECTIONS

SUGAR FROM SAWDUST.

It Can Be Made, but it is Hardly Fit For Table Use.

During the middle ages the alchemists, who were the predecessors of the modern men of science, spent much time in making a so called "philosopher's stone" which should transform the baser metals into gold, and even nowadays science still has some problems that are almost as tempting to the imagination and probably quite as unlikely to be realized. To turn ordinary sawdust into table sugar is one of them. The table sugar part of it is generally considered an interesting chimera, but the question of economically reducing sawdust to the different variety known as grape sugar contains possibilities that greatly interest the modern chemist either in the laboratories of commercial plants or in such student workshops as the sugar laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Grape sugar, which the chemists call dextrose, is an important item in the manufacture of health foods and can be used economically because it develops naturally in a comparatively inexpensive chemical process to which certain grains, chiefly corn, are subjected to produce eventually starch or glucose. As long ago as 1819 a French chemist surprised the French academy by exhibiting a few grains of grape sugar which he had made from old linen, commonly believed to have been his own shirt. Other scientists have shown also that grape sugar could be made from wood, although no one has yet found a way to transform this grape sugar into the more familiar, everyday produce of the cane or sugar beet. Theoretically, therefore, either an old house or an old suit of linen can be turned into this grape sugar provided one would take a great deal of trouble for a very small result.

The reason why sugar can be made from wood or linen is due to the action—which it would require a sugar chemist to explain in detail—of sulphuric acid on the cellulose, or woody fiber, that is found in both wood and linen. Few persons, however, believe that the process will ever be anything more than a scientific curiosity.

Will Make You Sleep.

An alcohol rub at bedtime will go far toward breaking up insomnia. Let the rubber begin with the forehead and temples of the sleepless one, paying particular attention to the spine and back of the neck. Rub the alcohol gently but firmly into the body, working gradually down to the feet, and probably the patient will fall asleep before the rubbing is completed. One night or even one week of rubbing would not be likely to bring back permanent habits of sound, healthy sleep, but each night there is a gain toward the normal equilibrium of the nerves, and a month of alcohol rubs should put one in a position to do without external helps of any kind.—Boston Budget.

Shook It Down.

There is a strong man in a certain village in Hungary. Not long ago he was building a stable for a farmer. Just as he was about to put the culminating brick in its place he happened to fall out with his employer and by way of working off his superfluous energy went up to one of the pillars and shook it. The entire building came down with a run. This is the most notable case of "it come apart in my hands," as servants say, since Samson.—London Globe.

H. J. HOOVER ACCOUNTS SHORT

of deep personal regard for the Newark man who now stands disgraced.

As an instance of this may be recalled, an incident that occurred at Camp McKinley during the recent division encampment of the Ohio National guard, when Hanna visited here. The Cleveland Senator was sitting in front of Gov. Nash's tent, holding an informal reception. Scores were crowding about him eager to take his hand, while others were plainly annoying him by their obsequious and obtrusive attention. Hoover drove to the camp ground and went to pay his respects to the Senator, in his quiet dignified way. Hanna, in spite of his rheumatism, arose from his chair with outstretched hand and going forward to meet him said, "Why, how are you Harry? I certainly am glad to see you."

The Senator then placed two chairs away from the front of the tent, and he and Hoover sat and chatted for some minutes aside from the rest of the party and the crowd.

Hoover left, and as Hanna resumed his place in the circle he remarked: "Harry Hoover is certainly a magnificent fellow. A true and loyal friend and a most companionable gentleman."

At the launching of the battleship Ohio at San Francisco, two years ago, Hoover formed one of the distinguished party of Ohioans who attended the ceremony, and went as the guest of Governor George K. Nash.

Hoover was an ardent and loyal factionist in county politics, but his political and factional enemies were in many cases his staunchest personal friends. He has always been a consistent supporter of Senator Hanna, and this without the hope of currying favor, but from a deep admiration of the personal character and political wisdom of the Cleveland Senator. This Senator Hanna returned to an eminent degree.

He has been an officeholder in the city, and has never held one to which a salary was attached, so that he has never been in politics for gain. Since his first election to the City School Board, he has been successively elected, having been a member for three terms. He was formerly treasurer of the Board, and at present is its president. When Mayor A. J. Griffy was casting about for names of men to appoint as members of the Board of Sinking Fund, Trustees of Newark, Harry J. Hoover was one of his first selections and he is still a member of that board.

This much for his public life, which was spotless in its record, and honorable in its unimpeachable efficiency and integrity.

In other relations of life and in other spheres of activity, the same magnetic personality, the same dignified reserve, and known kindness of heart drew about him friends staunch and true, who would have trusted him to the utmost, and resented even an expressed suspicion of his actions or motives. He was married some years ago to a most estimable young woman, who is highly regarded by the best Newark people, and to whom the most profound sympathy of all is extended.

Both moved in the most exclusive and fashionable social set, where both were favorites, and their wedding, a brilliant function, was attended by the elite of the city, whose unanimous verdict was that the two were well mated and destined to happiness. As a husband Mr. Hoover was the same as in every other relation, true to every marital obligation, and even in this dark hour, not a word can be heard questioning his loyalty to the sacred obligations of his marriage vows. She, too, has proven herself to be the true and loyal woman, for as the innocent sufferer from her husband's wrong doing, she sits by his side in the beautiful home on Granville street, now desolate with the knowledge of the iniquity of him who had been its head. Yet she has no word of censure, no word of blame and only they knew what a support she is to him now, under the fearful ordeal of an exposure, which will wreck his life.

Others may censure, those who have suffered at his hands may blame, the uncharitable world may point the finger of Pharisaical scorn at the one whom they have just ceased to applaud, but his wife, who has shared his joys with beaming pleasure, will now participate in this crushing sorrow without complaint.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, after their marriage, continued to be leaders in the most fashionable social circles, which are shocked from center to circumference by the disclosures of the past few days.

The method by which Hoover is alleged to have done his stealing is unique and in every way characteristic of the shrewdness and mental acumen of the alleged defaulter.

Hoover's manipulations are said to have extended over a period of ten years, and began when he was in the Peoples National Bank.

So skillfully was the work done, that during all the time no breath of suspicion was ever heard and the expert bank examiners, who made frequent visits, always found the affairs of this bank absolutely correct in every detail. Those who were in the bank, co-workers with Hoover were also misled, and no one ever dreamt that all was not right.

It is alleged that Harry P. Scott, a son-in-law of Benjamin Franklin, president of the Peoples National Bank, who was bookkeeper in the institution, first discovered the wrong doing which had so long been covered, and Scott confronted Hoover, his lifelong friend and chum, with the situation. Scott says that Hoover then confessed to a shortage of $36,000.

This was about two years ago, and soon after Hoover left the Peoples bank to take the position of cashier in the Licking County bank. Before going he told Scott that the mistake was not all his, but that he was making considerable money on the outside and stood ready to make good the shortage, if he were given time. Scott realized that it meant the ruin of his life long friend, and was disposed to give him a chance to make good his shortage. So the two agreed that nothing was to be said. Hoover began paying money into the Peoples bank three days after taking his new position, and finally made up the shortage, but it was afterward discovered that he had adopted a policy of "robbing Peter to pay Paul," as the money paid into the Peoples bank was stolen from the Licking bank. The way it was done was as follows.

Checks on the Peoples bank were paid by the Licking, in various amounts, and when these were taken for collection to the former bank instead of getting money for them, Hoover would take certificates of deposit, issued to him by Harry P. Scott for Cashier J. M. Maylone.

After banking hours Hoover would take these certificates of deposit to the Peoples, and he and Scott would mark the stubs of these certificates "paid." The money had already been taken, so that the books would balance, and no one knew of what was going on.

Last spring Scott went to the Licking County bank and accepted a position. The books of the bank had of course been manipulated by Hoover to account for the shortage there, and everything went smoothly until last August some of the directors discovered a number of unsecured notes signed by H. J. Hoover and the Hoover-Ball company, of which he was president. The $36,000 which he had paid into the Peoples bank, he covered up on the books of the Licking but the unsecured notes represented money taken by him over and above this $36,000. He was told that he must secure these notes and complied by turning over his building, a part of the Union block on West Church street, for $20,000; a $22,000 life insurance policy, houses, dogs and other personal property.

Hoover then went to French Lick, Springs, Ind., thinking that all that was known, was the unsecured notes. In the meantime, or soon after he left Newark, the directors of the bank, with Assistant Cashier H. P. Scott who took a position at the Licking bank last spring, went over the books and Scott soon realized that the whole affair would be known. He then told the story to the directors, about the manner in which the entire affair had been done.

The notes that were discovered were one for $5,000, signed by Hoover, totally unsecured, another for $5,000 signed by Hoover and his wife, $2,000 of which was secured by collateral security. This left $8,000 which Hoover had gotten from the bank, and which they had no security for. This $8,000 added to the $36,000, which he had taken to pay to the Peoples bank made him short at the Licking in the sum of $44,000. Hoover executed a note for this amount, on which he was given credit for $20,000, the price of the real estate. The other $24,000 the directors personally paid in cash in the presence of representatives of the other Newark banks. This made the Licking bank perfectly solid and amply protected against the loss, but a few days ago, Hoover turned over to the Licking bank certificates of deposit on the Peoples bank in the sum of $36,000. These certificates Scott thought were destroyed, but Hoover had preserved them and they were found by the directors of the Licking bank.

Harry Scott in conversing about the affair said he told Hoover to destroy the certificates which he had issued, and save Hoover from the do so, but now they have turned up.

Harry J. Hoover, the young man who is under such a deep shadow at present, is about 36 years of age, married but has no children. He has lived for several years in his present home on Granville street, between Pearl and Buckingham streets. He has a wife, another and father and one sister, who have the deepest sympathy of the entire city.

For some years Hoover has been living in extravagant style, having everything of the best. Horses and fine hunting dogs, expensive pleasure trips and other things that can only be enjoyed by the rich, were his. Many remarks were made about this, but they usually ended in the question: "I wonder where Harry Hoover gets his money to live so high?" His personality and spotless reputation precluded even a suspicion of wrongdoing, and those who thought about it at all would drop the matter as none of their business.

Unlike many other similar cases, there is no mystery about what the defaulter did with the funds misappropriated by him. Hoover spent them in living in the best style possible. He had no bad habits, did not drink, gamble nor did he ever have any complications with women.

Again let it be stated positively both banks have ample protection and the solidity of neither is impaired in the least. Harry Hoover is now at home critically ill.

In some Swiss villages eggs are in circulation in lieu of money.

NOVEMBER WEATHER

SNOW STORMS PREDICTED BY PROPHET HICKS.

Very Decided Dash of Early Winter is Scheduled for the Next Four Weeks.

Prophet Hicks makes the following weather predictions for the rest of November:

About the 5th, 6th and 7th there will be a noticeable rise in temperature, falling barometer and return of general storm conditions. Rains, turning to snow in the north, will visit most sections of the country in their eastward march about the 5th to 8th. A marked change in high barometer and colder will follow the storms, spreading to the east and south about the 7th to 9th inclusive.

The storm period extending from the 10th to the 15th, is central on the 12th, and the period, extending from the 17th to the 19th, is central on the 18th, hence the combined perturbations of these two forces will be felt. About the 12th to 15th may reasonably be expected one of the most general and active storm centers of the month. As early as the 10th the barometer will be falling in the west. Change to warmer will attend the falling barometer, and during the 11th to 15th these conditions will pass over the country, moving eastward, bringing rain and snow storms to most parts of the country. A very decided dash of early winter will bring up the rear of these storms, giving several cold days and frosty nights to most parts before the entrance of the next storm period.

A reactionary storm period is central from the 16th to the 20th. This period will bring return rising temperature, falling barometer and wide areas of cloudiness, rain and snow. The culmination of these disturbances will fall on and next to the 19th. Frost will reach quite into the south along with the high barometer following these disturbances.

A regular storm period is central on the 24th, covering with its influences the 22nd, to the 27th. As a rule the first two to three days of the regular storm periods are fair and growing warmer, with falling barometer and easterly to southerly winds. Then following cloudiness, storm and precipitation progressively from west to east. Behind the area of high temperature and rain, rising barometer, snow and cold, west winds follow all ending in cold, clear weather. This order of phenomena will transpire about the 22nd to 26th, but the cold, fair weather following the storms will be of short duration. Reactionary storm conditions will prevail as the month closes out, bringing unsettled, threatening and stormy weather. Upon the whole, the outlook for November is not so perturbed and stormy, as October promised to be.

CHURCH

Convention Will Continue Through Sunday—Two Sessions are Being Held Daily.

The Delaware District Council for the Christian Union church convened in the Christian Union church, this city, on Wednesday evening and will continue through Sunday.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. Amos Mitchell, vice moderator, which was followed by a reception. At Thursday morning's session the first thing on the program was the appointment of committees, which was followed by a paper, "Are the Five Senses the only avenues through which we receive knowledge," which was ably discussed.

Two sessions were held today. The one this evening will be the Missionary Anniversary, with a sermon by Rev. L. T. Hanawalt.

The sessions on Friday will be held at 8 a. m., and 2 and 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

THE HOME IN FRANCE.

It is Mainly an Adjunct to Life on the Outside.

The father and mother in Paris eat at home when they do not eat out, but absolutely no informal social intercourse invades the apartment, which is more than anything else a sort of factory in which is produced whatever the family needs for life outside. A vast amount of sewing is done here. French girls of even wealthy parents, after they finish school, attend courses of dressmaking and millinery and to a great extent the industry which turns out the French woman as a model of good dressing, to be followed by the world, is carried on by the women of the family in what would be the home if the French knew the meaning of the word.

A reception day is rigorously kept, and much entertaining at dinner and dinner may be done, but always of a formal character. A person having the penetrating qualities of a book agent might venture to try "dropping in" on a French woman on a day when she is not regularly receiving, but in the natural course of ordinary social experience in Paris this would never happen, says Flora McDonald Thompson in Harper's Bazar.

Such order of living readily permits great economy. One has not to waste time, good clothes or house room in daily preparation for the unexpected guest. Six days of the week a French woman may run her sewing machine in the middle of her salon if she likes, secure from the interruption of chance callers. It is said that the chief function of the petit salon of a Paris apartment is to provide storage room for ball gowns which on reception days are taken down from the chandelier and locked up in a bedroom till the guests have departed.

WEDDING PRESENTS.

Some Hints About How and What and When to Send.

It is a golden rule to send your wedding gift in good time, the first to arrive being much more appreciated than that which is one of the many pouring in from all quarters during the last week.

By adhering to this rule you are also saved the annoyance of hearing that the saltcellars are charming, the third set already received.

A month before the wedding day is not too early to send the present, which should be accompanied by a visiting card, to be placed on the gift when displayed among the others.

The package should be addressed to the bride if you are intimate with both the happy couple, and to the bride's house, addressed to the bridegroom, if it is he with whom you are best acquainted.

Most people wish to give something novel, useful and pretty. The future circumstances of the happy couple should influence the choice.

If they are going abroad, do not give anything unsuitable to the requirements of the climate or so cumbersome that packing and conveying it to its destination will amount to half the value of the present.

If the recipients will not be particularly well off, it is only kind to select some useful present. In these days, when artistic taste is shown in all the necessities of life, this should not be difficult.

If the happy couple are likely to receive many presents, it is safe to give something which will not be missed if received in duplicate, such as silver sweetmeat baskets for the dinner table or a set of afternoon teaspoons or a bronze or china ornament.

Photograph Frame.

"Dissolve half an ounce of hard gelatin in three ounces two drams of cold water until quite soft; then beat until melted. Now add one ounce six drams of glycerin. This will set hard and must be melted on the hob or in hot water for use. The advantage of this preparation is that there is no sticking as with gum, nor does it leave a stain. It is excellent for mounting both photographs and scraps.

BANKS SOUND

The Advocate in another part of this paper prints the startling announcement that Harry J. Hoover is short in his accounts to the extent of several thousand dollars. The Advocate has absolute evidence that the solidity of neither bank is impaired. Each is amply able to meet any demands that may be made upon it. The Licking Bank and the Peoples Bank are both perfectly sound and wherever the loss may fall it is, absolutely certain the credit of both institutions is perfectly good.

The Result No Fault of the Licking Democracy.

The Advocate reiterates its former statement that the political misfortune of Tuesday was not due to unpopularity of its local ticket or to any factionalism or weakness in the local organization. In all contests for members of the Legislature in Licking county, as elsewhere, party lines have heretofore been pretty distinctly drawn, and there was every reason to expect such a condition this year.

Licking county's Democratic candidate for Representative was a pure young man against whom not a derogatory word could be uttered, and who ran ahead of his ticket in the locality where he was raised and is best known. There was no local factionalism among the Democracy of Licking county to cause his defeat.

Neither was there anything lacking in the intelligence, loyalty or activity on the part of the Democratic County Committee. The part of wisdom and vigilance was displayed in every action of the Committee throughout the entire campaign.

The speakers, too, who were sent out to address the Democratic meetings, presented the issues in the most forcible manner possible. Under all the circumstances surrounding the local campaign and its splendid management, we expected, and had every reason to expect, a better result in Licking county, not only in the loss of the Representative, but in the unfortunate result on Commissioner and the general slump from the head of the ticket down.

Subsequently we shall have more to say on the real causes of the result, but space prevents a full explanation on this occasion.

McClellan's Great Victory in New York.

George B. McClellan, the Democratic candidate, has been elected mayor of Greater New York over Seth Low, who wore a Roosevelt domino in a reform masquerade, by the magnificent plurality of 64,000. He carried Brooklyn, where the bogus game was thought to be certain to accomplish its purpose. "Bill" Devery, ousted from Tammany conventions, State and city, the dismissed grafter who hired his slanderous tongue and his knowledge of criminal methods to the silk-stockinged brigade of self-asserted purifiers, is lost in the panic, hopelessly overwhelmed in an avalanche of ballots.

The decisive triumph brings joy to the heart of every Democrat in the land. Tammany at intervals has ransacked all good citizens by imitation of ring pillage methods practiced in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. But it is capable of honest administration, and the candidates it has elected are men against whom no suspicion can rest.

The result reflects many influences. Primarily it is a stinging rebuke to Mr. Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, who, with Governor Odell, Tom Platt and Seth Low, sought to steal a Democratic city in the guise of reformers, and then to exploit their victory to attain success next year, while the machinery and the city funds would be exerted in behalf of the National ticket. The mask was torn off, and no candidate in recent years has received so serious a bump as has the eager gentleman in the White House. His courage and his confidence are gone. His election is in graver doubt, and even his nomination does not partake of the cocksure character. With a continuation of his chronic instability upon large questions, his trimming, and his wabbling which undermines business solidity here, and his Lombard which endangers peace with foreign countries, it is no longer a certainty that his party will not close their account with the spectacular gentleman after his term as an accidental President.

The canvass in New York need not be reviewed. It was carefully followed during its progress, and all Democrats comprehend what is settled, and how hypocrisy and false issues have had their adjudication without appeal. It is a glorious consummation. Democracy in the Nation is heartened. New York State can be carried for a Democratic candidate, and he can be found.

THE COMFORT JOHN D. FINDS IN RELIGION.

Early in October John D. Rockefeller preached one of his characteristic two-minute sermons at Cleveland, O. It was an experience meeting, and the parent of the octopus said:

"The personal comfort that religion has been to me has been such that sometimes I feel that I would like to go upon the platform and tell the people about it."

If there is a human being in this wide world who needs the comforts of religion more than this one man, he has not been discovered. Today he is the same crafty, fox-like, shrewd schemer he was in the days when he unblushingly secured rebates from the railroads on all his oil shipments and a portion of the freight money paid by his competitors, although it was wrong, illegal, criminal, AND HE KNEW IT.

He works the Jekyll-Hyde business to a finish. Viewed from one standpoint he is a benevolent, Scripture-spouting, much-maligned and absolutely misunderstood man, entitled to sympathy and respect. In business he is cold as ice. He has no more heart in his commercial life than an oyster. There is history to prove it. He has never hesitated to ruin a competitor, even if that ruin carried with it not the blasting of hopes, but deliberate transgression of the law. When John D. Rockefeller runs over a man a funeral has often followed.

Last week Mr. Rockefeller's company put up the price of oil half a cent a gallon. A little later a full cent was added to the retail price of each gallon. Another raise has just been made, making an increase in two weeks of two and one-half cents per gallon on the price of the poor man's light.

Mr. Rockefeller's share of the new extortion will mount up into the millions of dollars.

There is no scarcity, no immediate danger of the supply falling short. He does not need the money, has no logical reason for putting the screws on the people.

But the evenings are long, lights are much used in the cottage homes, and the chance for loot was there.

Did Mr. Rockefeller ever hesitate at anything when there was money in sight?

He doesn't need to go on the platform. HIS WORKS SPEAK FOR HIM.

Former Auditor Castle, like Perry Heath, strikes back, and Postmaster-General Payne receives the blow full in the face. Mr. Castle knows all about the department where Payne's hot air was engendered. He blames the head of the department for the scandals and for the carnival of pillage of the Government, and he is incontrovertible. Why appoint chiefs of departments if they are not responsible for the conduct of them? Mr. Castle is not accused of participating in any of the petty jobs already exposed. He stands in better attitude for striking back than Perry Heath. Matters are growing so complex and the recriminations so bitter that a congressional inquiry must follow. The Bristol report is only a guide. The appendix will interest.

GORMAN'S BOOM

For the Presidency Has Started and Given an Impetus --It is Claimed He Advised Tammany in Naming Its Ticket That Has Won So Overwhelmingly.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5.—Edwin Warfield is elected Governor over Williams Rep., by 8,000, other candidates shading off from that figure. The Legislature will have a Democratic majority of 50 on joint ballot, insuring the election of a Democratic successor to United States Senator Louis E. McComas, Rep.

The friends of Senator Gorman consider the Democratic victories in New York City and in Maryland as putting him to the front as the most prominent candidate for the Democratic nomination for President next year. The selection of the New York ticket, they say, was made on the advice of Mr. Gorman, and he is credited with being the only man with the influence to get Comptroller Grout into line. The fact that the ticket won by a handsome majority will, it is thought by local politicians, make Mr. Gorman the real choice of Tammany Hall.

There are a half dozen avowed candidates for Senator in the field. Governor John Walter Smith is the organization candidate, and his chief rival is conceded to be the retiring Attorney General of the state, Isador Rayner, an ex-Congressman and distinguished as chief counsel for Rear Admiral Schley before the Court of Inquiry. On a popular vote Rayner would win overwhelmingly, and he has pledged to him enough votes to give him a fighting chance.

GORMAN CLUB

Met With Favor When It Was Started in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—A Gorman club has been started in Atlanta. Already several hundred young men have announced their intention of joining, and it is very probable that a meeting will be called in a few days for the purpose of effecting the organization.

PARKER ELIMINATED,

And McClellan and Gorman to the Front, Says the Republic.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 5.—The St. Louis Republic editorially says:

"Only a few states were directly affected by the filling of offices in Tuesday's elections, but the returns excited actually more comment than those of last year's congressional contest."

"Johnson's complete rout in Ohio aids in making New York and Maryland the centers of attention. McClellan becomes a Presidential possibility. Senator Gorman will now be more definitely named by those Southern Democrats who favor a plan of campaign eastern states. Judge Parker is scarcely to be in the list from this time forward. If New York Democrats press any of their own number obviously, Little Mac is the second."

"More and more as the situation is dispassionately considered it becomes probable that the Democracy will elect the President next year. With wise use of its opportunities there is something approaching certainty that it can defeat President Roosevelt. Missouri with New York and other doubtful and the rest of the West and South need not commit themselves to any particular geography of nominees."

JOHNSON EXPLAINS

Sends Out a Signed Statement in Regard to the Result of the Election and His Reasons for the Defeat.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—Hon. Tom L. Johnson, the defeated Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, last night gave out the following statement relative to the election in this state: "The result in Ohio is due to several causes of which the chief was the successful attempt of Senator Hanna to impress upon the people of this state that a continuance of undisturbed business conditions demanded his return to the senate."

"In the last few weeks of the campaign the closing of mills and discharge of thousands of workmen, together with bank and business failures throughout the country, gave color to Senator Hanna's claim that the campaign in Ohio involved national issues of more immediate importance than the betterment of our local conditions."

"I hope that Senator Hanna's statement that his re-election will preserve the industrial and business situation from disturbance will be verified, and that confidence which he believes to be the basis of prosperity, will be preserved."

The Republican party in this campaign used a fund larger in amount than any other political fund in the history of state politics. This campaign fund was furnished by privileged interests throughout the country. They not unnaturally feeling that Senator Hanna was their national representative. The magnitude of this fund enabled the Republican committee to give the widest possible circulation to lieve.

ROOSEVELT Will be Defeated, Says Senator Dubois. Democrats Don't Want Cleveland.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—United States Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho is of opinion that President Roosevelt will be defeated if nominated for the presidency. Senator Hanna, he declared, would make a better run than President Roosevelt.

He based his predictions on the belief that President Roosevelt would not have the support of the financial interests of the east and middle-west. The election results Senator Dubois believes are significant of a turn in the tide of public sentiment against the present administration.

"If a candidate like Judge Parker of New York, on whom different factions in the Democratic party can unite is chosen, I believe President Roosevelt will be defeated," said the Senator, who was making a call in passing through the city. "Former President Cleveland will not be the Democratic candidate. A two-thirds vote in the convention is necessary to the choice of a candidate, and I am sure that there will be more than one-third who will oppose him. Mr. Cleveland would stand no more show than Bryan. He would be opposed by the west and the south."

Judge Parker appears to be the logical candidate. As his running mate I would pick some Indiana man perhaps Mayor Taggart of Indianapolis, or B. F. Shiveley.

Three Democratic counties in the State broke their records on Tuesday by sending Republican representatives to the Legislature. These were Co. Jackson, Licking and Richland. In either case was the result due to the local Democratic organizations of these counties.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

(From the Atchison, Kan. Daily Globe)

"This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup known as hive syrup and tannin, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to 'throw up the phlegm' quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears, and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists."

RUN BY MOUSE POWER.

A Thrifty Scotsman's Scheme For Operating His Thread Mills.

Thrift is generally acknowledged to be one of the leading characteristics of the native of Fifehire, and it never was more forcibly exemplified than in the person of David Hutton, a native of Dunfermline, who actually proved that even mice, those acknowledged pests of mankind, could be made not only to earn their own living, but also to yield a respectable income to their owners.

About the year 1820 this gentleman actually erected a small mill at Dunfermline for the manufacture of thread—a mill worked entirely by mice. It was while visiting Perth prison in 1812 that Mr. Hutton first conceived this remarkable idea of utilizing mouse power. In an old pamphlet of the time, "The Curiosity Coffee Room," he gave an account of the way in which the idea dawned on him. "In the summer of the year 1812," he wrote, "I had occasion to be in Perth, and when inspecting the toys and trinkets that were manufactured by the French prisoners in the depot there my attention was involuntarily attracted by a little toy house, with a wheel in the gable of it that was running rapidly round, impelled by the insignificant gravity of a common house mouse. For 1 shilling I purchased house, mouse and wheel. Inclosing it in a handkerchief, on my journey homeward I was compelled to contemplate its favorite amusement. But how to apply half ounce power, which is the weight of a mouse, to a useful purpose was the difficulty. At length the manufacturing of sewing thread seemed the most practicable."

Mr. Hutton had one mouse that ran the amazing distance of eighteen miles a day, but he proved that an ordinary mouse could run ten and a half miles on an average. A halfpenny's worth of oatmeal was sufficient for its support for thirty-five days, during which it ran 786 half miles. He had actually two mice constantly employed in the making of sewing thread for more than a year. The mouse thread mill was so constructed that the common house mouse was enabled to make atonement to society for past offenses by twisting, twining and reeling from 100 to 120 threads a day, Sundays not excepted. To perform this task the little pedestrian had to run ten and a half miles, and this journey it performed with ease every day. A halfpenny's worth of oatmeal served one of these thread-mill culprits for the long period of five weeks. In that time it made 8,350 threads of twenty-five inches, and as a penny was paid to women for, every hank made in the ordinary way, the mouse at that rate earned ninepence every six weeks, just one farthing a day, or 7s. 6d. a year.

Taking sixpence off for board and allowing 1 shilling for machinery, there was a clear yearly profit from each mouse of 6 shillings. Mr. Hutton firmly intended to apply for the loan of the empty cathedral in Dunfermline, which would have held, he calculated, 10,000 mouse mills, sufficient room being left for keepers and some hundreds of spectators. Death, however, overtook the inventor before this marvelous project could be carried out.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

A Surprised Duke.

Just after the late Duke of Richmond and Gordon received the latter half of his title—he was created Duke of Gordon in January, 1876—he was sent to this country as president of the British commission to our centennial exposition. While in this country he heard of a certain picture owned by a country woman in which he thought he might be interested, and so wrote to her, using the official stationery of the commission and signing himself, as a peer does, simply by the names of his title, "Richmond and Gordon."

Much to his surprise and a good deal to his disgust—for he had precise ideas as to his dignity as a duke—the letter which he received in answer to his was addressed, "Messrs. Richmond & Gordon," and began, "Gentlemen!"

At the Sociable.

Mr. Sliptrouge: I have not met your wife. Is she here this evening?

Mr. Hansome:—Yes, but just at this moment she is engaged over there at the piano.

Mr. Sliptrouge (with affected enthusiasm):—Ah, I see! She is that goddess-like beauty who is playing an accompaniment for the mountain of flesh who is singing.

Mr. Hansome (stiffly):—My wife does not play; she sings.—London Telegraph.

Why.

"Lillian is not sure that she loves Walter. Sometimes she thinks she does, and at other times she's convinced she doesn't."

"And yet she is going to marry him?"

"Oh, yes, that's all settled."

"But if she is not sure she loves him why doesn't she break the engagement?"

"Because she is twenty-seven."—Kansas City Journal.

Fixing the Blame.

"The trouble ain't with the farm," said the old man. "If the farm didn't have to do anything but support itself, it could be made to pay, but it doesn't seem to be able to carry the burden of us livin' on it, so I reckon we're to blame."—Chicago Post.

Loosing an Opportunity.

CHANCE FOR SPOONERS.

Councillors of Janesville, Wis., Favor Kissing on Schoolhouse Steps.

Lovers may continue their "spooning" on the school steps at night at any of the public schools in Janesville, Wis., without interference on the part of the police. That decision was recently reached by the common council. The victory was a complete one for Alderman Edward Connell, who from the start has championed the cause of the lovers.

Mayor A. O. Wilson and Alderman Mathewson were in favor of appointing the janitors of the public schools as special police so as to do away with the disturbance at night caused by those who till late at night kept people awake by their kissing and laughter.

Alderman Connell is the only member of the Janesville council who is not enjoying wedded bliss, and for this reason the married city fathers thought that he was better posted on this kissing nuisance than they were. Alderman Connell thought it was useless to appoint the janitors of the different schools as special police. The lovers were doing no harm and were merely enjoying themselves as no doubt many of the aldermen present had done in their younger days. In their vote that followed every one of the aldermen voted with Alderman Connell.

To a reporter Alderman Connell said: "I used to be a boy myself, and it was not many years ago that I used to visit these same schoolhouse steps. Of course I don't favor any couples kissing so loud that they keep the neighbors awake, but from what I have learned by looking into the matter I find that the neighbors have had but few instances where lovers' snatches have kept them awake longer than midnight."

YOUR BRAIN NEEDS BLOOD

It Cannot Run Without Fuel—Dyspepsia Stomach a Poor Fireman.

If you want a strong, active brain, you must take care of your stomach. Brain workers are always the first to suffer from indigestion and dyspepsia. They are also first to give way under the strain.

An active brain requires plenty of rich, red blood. Dyspepsia shuts off the blood supply. Food cannot digest—cannot yield nourishment.

Take a Rexall Dyspepsia Tablet each evening and you'll do three times as much work the next day. It will put your stomach right, get your bowels into condition and fill your arteries with good blood.

BUSINESS MAN TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

"I suffered for many years from loss of energy and ambition. I experienced colicky pains and severe bilious headaches. For days I would be incapacitated from attending to business. A food tasted the same to me. I took one package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets and was wonderfully benefited. Since that time I have never been without them. When I feel any of the distressing symptoms mentioned above I take the tablets as directed. I find myself substantially cured and now eat food that formerly I dared not touch.—CHARLES M. JURY, 609 Majestic Building, Detroit, Mich."

TIM MURPHY

Actor Who Comes to Newark Tomorrow Makes Quite a Dash in Signing His Name.

Tim Murphy is quite an adept with the pencil and were he not a great comedian the chances are he would be a great cartoonist. Not only is he clever with a pencil, but also an expert at pen and ink work. His signature on a hotel register is a wonder, not particularly on account of any artistic merit, but owing to the quantity of ink he manages to exude from the pen—neat and precise, he writes "Tim Murphy," and then with a flourish moves back with the pen and dashes off a "T" that can only be likened to a river of ink and generally causes more or less consternation to the usually urbane hotel clerk. Entering a hotel a few days ago, tired and dusty after a long railway journey, Tim overheard the clerk remark in an aside to three men lounging over the counter: "Here comes Tim Murphy, watch his signature," and the police clerk blandly shoved the register along to Tim and handed him a new pen, then stood with arms akimbo exposing to view a large expanse of immaculate shirt front in the center of which nestled a large yellow diamond. Tim leaned far over the counter and placed upon the register the usual "Tim Murphy" and then moved his hand back to the head of the line. As he did so the curious crowd drew near, and then something happened—there was a crash, as the pen flew into fragments which alighted in the faces of the onlookers, while the usual river of ink landed fair and square upon the yellow diamond and formed diverting black threads across the shirt front, representing the latest and greatest railway merger. The smiling clerk never turned a hair but beamed benignly upon Tim, and remarked: "My, but you are cutting a dash this morning, Mr. Murphy." Tim, however, as he settled his bill the next day, discovered that the rate at that hotel had advanced two dollars per day since his last visit.

At the Auditorium tomorrow night, November 6, Mr. Murphy will be seen in "The Man from Missouri."

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God, in his allwise providence to remove from our midst by death on October 27, 1930, our worthy Brother, Elmer G. Baker, be it

Resolved, That in the death of our brother, Fallsburg Lodge No. 690 K. of P., has lost a true and devoted member and the bereaved wife a kind and devoted husband, and we earnestly commend her to Him who hath said: "I will never leave nor forsake thee."

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved and sorrowing wife and friends our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, and commend them all to Him who only can heal the wound that death has made.

Resolved, That we drape our charter in mourning for a period of 60 days, and that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge and a copy be given to the sadly bereaved wife and be published in the county papers.

A New Back for an Old One—How It is Done in Newark.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling; making you weary and restless, piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so sore to stoop is agony! No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new one. Follow the example of this Newark citizen.

Mrs. N. W. Jarvis, No. 105 North Fifth street, says: "When I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's I had been sick for some time. In fact I could not do anything, I felt so poorly. I had a severe pain in my back and was terribly weak. I had been taking treatment, first one and another, but I felt no better. My attention was drawn to a reading notice in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills. Bad backs like mine had been cured, could mine be also? I decided to try them. They did for me what other medicines failed to do. They gently aided the kidneys and the pain in the back over the kidneys left me."

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 4.—In spite of the fact that they are barred from training and practice, with the exception of two hours a day, the middies of the naval academy generally manage to give a good account of themselves on the gridiron.

A cleaner set of young men would be hard to find than these admirals in embryo. Captained by Charles C. Soule, '04, this year's eleven is one of the best the academy ever turned out. Coached by Charley Gould, it has made wonderful strides toward perfection.

The five men whose likenesses are shown are Captain Soule, who hails from Brookline, Mass.; William F. Halsey, Jr., son of Commodore Halsey, of the navy; Kenneth Whiting, of New York City; R. B. Strassburger, of Norristown, Pa.; and L. C. Farley, of Brookline, Mass.

INTELLIGENT LIFE, WATER AN AIR ON MOON

SO PROF. W. H. PICKERING, HARVARD'S FAMOUS ASTRONOMER, WILL DECLARE IN BOOK SOON, TO BE PUBLISHED—REVOLUTIONIZES SCIENTIFIC OPINIONS REGARDING FAIR LUNA.

CANALS ON THE MOON. PROF. W. H. PICKERING.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 4.—One of the most startling scientific books of the century is soon to be issued. Its title is "The Moon," its author Prof. Wm. H. Pickering, of Harvard university observatory. In this book Professor Pickering takes the first step toward proving that there is living, intelligent life in the moon.

In the first part of the book Prof. Pickering attempts to show that the moon is not the dead body that scientists for centuries have supposed it to be. He shows that the surface of the moon, as well as being dotted with volcanic craters, is also crossed by a chain of canals.

Canals as applied to bodies of water connecting two larger bodies of water is not what is meant when the astronomers speak of "the canals on Mars." The word canals as used in astronomy means a dark, narrow marking on the surface of the solar body under observation.

The canals on the moon, Prof. Pickering thinks, as well as the canals on Mars, are processes of vegetation. They appear green in the spring, gray in the summer and yellow in the autumn. They are in no way due to the presence of large bodies of water.

The water necessary to the life of all growing vegetation is found on the moon in the deposits of water vapor and snow, which are plainly seen in all photographs ever taken of the lunar body. The carbonic acid necessary to all animal and plant life is maintained as on the earth, by volcanic craters and springs, and of these the moon has a better supply than the earth.

Indeed, as a side comment, Prof. Pickering in his book states in this connection that the earth's supply of this most necessary of gases is running low on account of the decrease of volcanic energy, and that the question of further supply may be the problem of the age to come.

Prof. Pickering concludes his remarkable treatise thus: "While these observations prove that intelligent life may exist on the moon as well as on Mars, there remains nothing to disprove the argument, should it be advanced, that there is highly intelligent life in the moon."

The newest American astronomer is 45 years old and was born in Boston. He erected the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., as well as the Harvard observatory in Jamaica. He died at different times expeditions to observe solar eclipses, including one to Chile in 1893. He has been a professor at Harvard since 1889.

For over a year Prof. Pickering has been taking observations and securing photographic exposures of the moon, and the result of this extended study has been the forming of his revolutionary opinions. Many of these observations were taken in the Harvard university in Cambridge, while others have been secured at the stations established by Harvard in Jamaica and in Peru. While the immediate work has taken but a year, Prof. Pickering's life time has been spent on observations of the moon as his astronomical specialty.

Prof. Pickering is in no sense a scholastic recluse, but takes a keen interest in affairs. His greatest hobby by aside from moon studies is mountain climbing. He is one of the few men who have climbed the peak of El Misti in Peru, which is 19,400 feet above the sea. He has climbed over a hundred other peaks in various parts of the world.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not been sick a day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C. writes. Only 50c. at F. D. Hall, Druggist.

CENTER STAR LODGE

OF MASONS OF GRANVILLE HAVE RED LETTER TIME.

Annual Election of Officers of the Lodge, Followed by Sumptuous Banquet.

Granville, Nov. 5.—Wednesday night was a red letter night in the history of Center Star Lodge, No. 11, F. & A. M. of Granville, it being the occasion of the annual election of the officers of the lodge. There was a large attendance of the members of the lodge, together with a number of visitors. After the regular routine business had been transacted the election of officers was proceeded with, and resulted as follows:

W. M.—L. A. Austin.
S. W.—J. M. Swartz.
J. W.—Dr. E. J. Barnes.
Treasurer—F. H. Buxton.
Secretary—Prof. T. L. Williams.
S. D.—Dr. H. R. Hundley.
J. D.—Prof. C. L. Williams.
Tyler—John DeBow.

At the conclusion of the work the members of the lodge repaired to the Buxton House, where a sumptuous banquet, prepared by Mrs. Minnie Kerr and Fred Buxton was partaken of. Plates had been laid for about sixty, and every chair was occupied. Following was the menu:

Raw Oysters. Salted Wafers.
Olives.
French Fried Potatoes.
French Peas with Cream Dressing.
Celery. Waldorf Salad.
Cranberry Sauce.
Cold Ham. Cold Tongue.
White Bread, Brown Bread.
Coffee. Tea.
Ice Cream. Cake.
California Grapes. Fruits.
Cigars.

Brother J. M. Swartz acted as toast master and a number of toasts were responded to by members present.

During the evening some exceedingly fine music was rendered by an orchestra composed of students of Denison university, which added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The affair was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the members of Center Star lodge and will linger long in the memory of all who were present.

BEGGAR'S SOCIAL STATUS.

He Wondered If It Would Be Lowered by Going to Jail.

"Will my status in society be lowered if you send me to jail?" was a somewhat peculiar query which Alexander Norman put to Magistrate Cunningham in the Central police court at Philadelphia the other day. Norman, who is a cripple, had been arrested a few days ago charged by Agent Benjamin H. Marsh of the Society for Organized Charity with being a vagrant, says the Philadelphia Press.

"Your status in society, I should think, would not be increased if you went to jail," said the magistrate.

Agent Marsh said he believed Norman was a confirmed beggar and that the police had a record of him in New York. He asked the court to hold Norman for a further hearing in order that he might have his photograph taken and sent to New York.

"Oh, no, I won't do anything like that," said the magistrate. Marsh then proceeded to question Norman. The latter appealed to the magistrate to dispose of his case without further delay.

"Do I have to answer the man's questions?" asked the prisoner.

"Not if you don't want to," replied his honor.

"Then I won't answer them. Please send me to jail."

The defendant, who was previously much concerned about his social status, was then sent to the house of correction for six months.

Meetings of Literary Societies—Lecture by E. M. Thresher—Social Notes of Interest.

Granville, O., Nov. 5.—Of all the Halloween festivities and parties held this year none were more enjoyable than the pretty affair given by Miss Hattie Smith, the estimable daughter of Mr. J. B. Smith, at her home on College street, this place, on last Friday evening, when she charmingly entertained a number of her Newark and Granville friends. The house was beautifully and tastefully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves, and Halloween games afforded an evening of rare social pleasure, which was seasoned with refreshments. Those present were the Misses Mamie and Nellie Magianis, Annie and Carrie Kneupper, Nellie and Margaret Pfeiffer, Mary McMann and Rose Sutton and Messrs. Harry and Ray Vogelmeier, Frank Trafer, August Hess, Edward Shick, Mr. Athey and W. H. Ports.

Mrs. Chas. Herrick and Mrs. William Ashmore, Jr., entertained very delightfully at the home of Mrs. Herrick this afternoon.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock Mr. E. M. Thresher of Dayton, will give a lecture on music in the Recital Hall.

Prof. Bunyon Spencer will entertain the members of his Greek class on next Wednesday evening.

The Philomathean Literary Society will hold a meeting in Recital Hall at 7 o'clock on Friday evening.

On Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock Euterpe will hold its regular meeting in the gymnasium.

On Friday evening, November 14, Miss Green of Dayton, will address the Social Culture Club of Shepardson college.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barkhurst, who have been making their home in Granville for nearly two years, have sold their home on West Broad street to John Prouty of Cumberland, Md., and returned to their old home in McConnellsville, Morgan county. The house occupied by Professor Chamberlain, which is also owned by Mr. Barkhurst, will not be sold. Mr. Prouty will remove his family here from Cumberland and will take immediate possession of the Barkhurst house.

What to do Until the Doctor Arrives.

"One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely," says S. B. Elze, of Monett, Mo. "I telephoned for a doctor, then gave a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a few minutes later a second dose. Before the doctor came the child was relieved." ## UNJUSTIFIED

Was the Killing of Six Indians in the Late Trouble, Says Indian Agent Brennan.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The Indian office this morning received the following telegram from Indian Agent Brennan at Hot Springs, S. D.:

"My telegram to you yesterday substantially correct. A sheriff and posse from Wyoming arrested nine Indians and their families near Edgemont, S. D., last night; they are supposed to be part of the party engaged in the fight Saturday. Tried to have them released pending investigation. Officers insisted on taking them to Douglas, Wyo. for hearing; mob violence threatened. Governor should be telegraphed at once to use all means to protect the Indians now under arrest. U. S. attorney should be ordered to Douglas to see that justice is done the Indians under arrest in my opinion the killing of six Indians reported was totally unjustified. Will be at agency in the morning. (Signed)."

"BRENNAN."

Indian Commissioner Jones is indignant over the killing of the Indians, which he characterizes as nothing less than murder.

"It is an unpardonable outrage," he said this morning, "that six Indians should be killed just because one of them happened to shoot an antelope. That they should defend themselves from attack by the sheriff and posse, under the circumstances is not at all unreasonable."

Mr. Jones has written a letter to the secretary of the interior requesting that the Governor of Wyoming be appealed to in the name of justice for the protection of the Indians under arrest, as suggested by Indian Agent Brennan.

In the United States nearly 13 of every 10,000 inhabitants are studying at colleges or university status. The number in Great Britain is less than five.

CUBA'S DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Panama, Nov. 5.—The following is an extract from the document proclaiming the independence of the isthmus of Panama:

"This afternoon (Tuesday) at 3 o'clock the municipal council of Panama, assembled for the exclusive purpose of deliberating on the situation of the country and deciding on the best manner in which to promote the tranquility, development and greatness of the population constituting the topographic and political entity of the isthmus of Panama.

"The Councillors considered the historic events by virtue of which Panama divorced its destinies from those of Spain and united its fortunes to those of the Republic of Colombia. Addresses were made establishing the fact that in the union of the isthmus with old Colombia modern Colombia had not received the benefits which it expected. Particular mention was made of the great and prolonged grievances from which the isthmus suffered under all Governments since the union. Instead of being treated in a patriotic manner the grievances increased every day in number and importance and were forced with a blindness that killed in the people of the isthmus the affection they had for their alliance with Colombia.

"It was demonstrated that this is the moment to cut the links which retard our civilization, place obstacles in the way of our progress, produce unhappiness and render nugatory the ends of the political entity into which we have entered.

"Moved by the necessity of satisfying obligations and of promoting within the bosoms of the people respect for right and liberty, the Municipal Council of the District of Panama, faithfully interpreting the sentiments of the people it represents, declares in solemn form that the peoples within its jurisdiction shall from today and forever more separate themselves from the republic of Colombia and limiting to it the State of Panama, shall create, with the other population of the State of Panama who accept separation a republic this republic to have an independent, democratic and representative government, to assure the happiness of natives and other inhabitants of the isthmian territory. In order to give the practical effect to this resolution the people of Panama will have to emancipate themselves from the Government of Colombia and found a nationality free from the interference of foreign Powers.

"The Municipality of the District of Panama, in its own name and that of other municipal Councils, commends the administration and direction of affairs, pending the constitution of the new republic to a junta composed of Jose Agustin Arango, Frederic Boyd and Thomas Arias, to whom shall be delegated all powers necessary for the fulfillment of the duties commended to them in the name of the country.

"The municipality decided to call to its open council, the population of the district, and to submit for its sanction this act, which is signed by the dignitaries and members of the corporation."

CONSTANTINOPLE.

It Has Perhaps the Finest Site For a City in the World.

Constantinople looks much better from the water than it does when viewed ashore. The tourist who touches at the port, remains on board and sees the city only from the sea retains an entirely different impression from that of him who goes ashore. Seen from the water, Constantinople is very beautiful. Seen from the shore, it is the apotheosis of everything that is filthy and foul. I do not say that it is unworthy of a visit, but I do say that he who stays on board will take away a much more picturesque impression.

The site of Constantinople is ideal. There is probably no finer site for a city in the world. It is situated on the Bosphorus, between the Mediterranean and the Black seas. It lies between Europe and Asia, for Scutari is part of Constantinople, and Scutari is on the Asiatic shore. It is cut off by natural boundaries into municipal divisions, for the Golden Horn divides Stamboul, the Mohammedan, from Galata, the Christian, city. So the Bosphorus divides Scutari, the Asiatic, from Constantinople, the European, city; yet all of these places make one great city under the general name of Constantinople. And this great city is guarded also by nature. It has the sea of Marmora close at hand, with fortifications at either end of this great water highway, rendering the city unassailable by sea. It has a peninsular conformation which also renders it, properly fortified, impregnable by land as well as by sea. It is as if San Francisco were to have batteries of heavy artillery all around her water front, from India basin to the presidio, from the presidio to Lake Merced and then across the neck of the peninsula from Lake Merced to India basin. With all these factors in its favor no wonder that Constantinople has always been looked upon as an ideal site for a city. That so many races should have battled over Byzantium for so many hundreds of years is not surprising.—Argonaut.

Health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of, a blessing that money cannot buy.—Walton.

REVOLUTION

SITUATION ON THE ISTHMUS IS MOST SERIOUS.

Clash Between Colombian Soldiers and Revolutionists—U. S. War Vessels Sent to Preserve Order.

Panama, Nov. 5.—The situation on the isthmus this morning is most serious. General Torres in command of the Colombian troops at Colon has refused to follow the example of Panama and secede from the Colombian government. He has even threatened to send troops from Colon against Panama if the latter city does not surrender.

It is reported that the Colombian soldiers at Colon have threatened to burn the city and murder all the citizens sympathizing with the revolutionists as well as all the Americans in the city. The latter appealed for protection from the American cruiser Nashville, which is in Colon harbor.

Panama, Nov. 5.—The presence of the American cruiser Nashville at Colon has had the effect of averting temporarily at least a clash between the soldiers at Colon and the revolutionists in this city. Should General Torres carry out his threat and send troops to Panama they would of necessity march the distance, as Commander Hubbard of the Nashville, has issued orders that no troops can be transported on the railroad either from Colon or Panama.

The commander took this step as it is the only way in which free and uninterrupted transit on the isthmus, which the United States is pledged to maintain, can be continued.

The outcome of the conference here last night between General Tobar, the Colombian officer imprisoned by rebels, and Senor Guerrero, the alcalde of Colon and special agent of General Torres, who came to Panama by special train is not known. It is known that General Torres wishes to obtain General Tobar's ideas as to how he should proceed.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 5.—The commander of the United States gunboat Nashville is preparing to land marines here.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Admiral Glass and the entire squadron now at Acapulco, Mexico has been ordered by Secretary Moody to proceed at once to Panama, for the purpose of protecting American lives and property, and for maintaining uninterrupted transit across the isthmus. The squadron consists of the Wyoming, Marblehead, Concord and Boston. The latter ship, under previous orders, was already on her way to Panama.

Messrs. John Scanlan, Sr., John Scanlan, Jr., Patrick Scanlan and their wives, and Daniel Scanlan of Shawnee, Mrs. Kate Ressler of Logan, Ellen Grady of Columbus, the Misses Anna, Mary and Rosa Soder of Zanesville, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Egan of Delaware, Messrs. Daniel Kennelly, Frank Grady, Dennis Call and their wives of Shawnee, who were called here by the death and burial of Mrs. Frank J. Soder, have returned home.

Why Buggins Didn't Go Home

"YOU'RE looking bad," said Snuggins.

Buggins certainly did look bad. His eyes had large dark rings under them, his face was pale, and his left cheek was horribly swollen.

"Bad!" he snorted. "So would you look bad if you'd been through what I have."

"What's the trouble?"

"Well, I've had jumping neuralgia since 2 o'clock this morning. If that's what you want to know. But that's not the trouble. The trouble is that I've been walking about the streets with it since daylight."

"But the streets are no place for you," protested Snuggins. "If you have neuralgia. You ought to stay home."

"That's all you know about it," snarled Buggins. "Home's no place for me when I'm sick."

"Why, your wife used to be a trained nurse."

"Exactly. She can give me the best attention—from a medical standpoint. She knows just what ought to be done and does it. But there the matter ends. Sympathy's what I want, and that she won't give to any sick man. She says she wouldn't have been a good nurse if she hadn't got rid of her sympathy in the first year of her training. She is always well herself and can't appreciate what pain is. Go home? Not much!"—Philadelphia Press.

A Secret.

"Won't you tell me whose portrait you wear in that locket?"

"No, indeed. I'm afraid it would make you vain."—New York American.

What One Boy Knew.

Mr. Coward, the amiable British giant of the Mosely education commission, had this to tell of his experiences to a party of friends he was entertaining at the Park Avenue hotel, New York city:

"I was addressing about 2,000 children in assembly down on the east side, and, touching on history, I said: 'Landmarks are a very good guide to history. We have many such in England. For instance, the cathedrals and castles, nearly all of which remind us of some epoch in history. Then we have Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, which recalls the battle of Trafalgar. Now, what ship have you to remind you of some past event in history?'"

"After a few seconds' delay a small voice piped out, 'Please, sir, the Reliance.'"

Not a Clev.

"And have you no clew?" asked the chief.

"No," replied the new detective. "I thought at first that I had, but it was not one at all."

"What was it?"

"A mask that I picked up at the scene of the crime. But while I was examining it a tough looking fellow in the crowd said it was his and took it away from me."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Doing His Best.

Gayebore—I understand that Wilde-bore's father left him nothing.

Highflyer—Nothing but his debts. Gayebore—So? And how is the youngster getting on?

Highflyer—Very nicely indeed. He's managed to increase his legacy by thirty thousand!—Smart Set.

The Soft Answer.

Mrs. Ennepek—Oh, you needn't talk! You're not quite perfection yourself, I would have you know.

Ennepek—No, my dear, but when you are around I'm mighty near perfection.

Mrs. Ennepek—Oh, Henry!—Baltimore American.

A Good Thing.

Little Willie—When you die, Mr. Mark, you will go right to heaven, won't you?

Mr. M.—Why so?

Little Willie—Sister says you are an awfully good thing—Butte Inter Mountain.

An Eloquent Objection.

Mrs. Newby-blessed—But you certainly don't object to such a wee little baby as that?

Janitor—Oh, it ain't the size that counts, mum; it's the principle up the thing—Judge.

Two Evils.

"It's hard to have a lot of debts that you simply can't pay."

"Oh, I don't know. It's worse to have a lot that you simply have to pay."—Philadelphia North American.

Had It All Her Own Way.

Ellis—I heard the last meeting of our debating club was very harmonious.

Louise—Yes, there wasn't any one present except the president, Mrs. Chatterer.—Chelsea (Mass.) Gazette.

A Stickler For Form.

"I tell you if you want real punkin pie you've got to go to Boston for it."

"I tried to get it there once, but couldn't."

"You couldn't?"

"No; the waiter girl said they only had 'pumpkin' pie, and she wouldn't give it to me until I said it right."—Philadelphia Press.

A Case of Easy Picking.

"You know that man, Filpperton, who claims to read character at a glance?"

"Yes."

"Well, he swindled me out of $300."

"Indeed. I didn't suppose he ever put his boasted talent to any practical use."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Boston Intellectual.

Hunter—You look pleased about something, Dumley.

Dumley—I have reason to. I've just thought of a jolly good answer to a conundrum. If I could only think of a conundrum to fit it, by George. I believe I'd send it to the papers.—Boston Transcript.

Usually Easy.

"Oh, we've got an easy thing this time," said the confidence man who had been prospecting for a victim.

"Sure?"

"Oh, positive! Why, I've rounded up a fellow who thinks he's too smart to be 'done' by any one."—Chicago Post.

The Record.

"Young man," said the stern parent, "do you know what is the greatest aim in life?"

"Sure!" said the unregenerate. "That feller on the Indianapolis wheel smashed the bullseye five straight at half a mile with a 13 inch!"—Baltimore News.

ANTI SALOON LEAGUE

Claims Sufficient Control of Next Legislature to Pass Such Measures as It Desires.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—Superintendent P. A. Baker of the State Anti-Saloon League, says the Legislature is very satisfactory. In a statement, Superintendent Baker says: "The impotency of the so-called liquor vote has again been more than demonstrated. Not a representative nor senator who actively supported the Beal law and had nominated against him a friend of the saloon interests was defeated, though in a number of instances the wet candidates had normal party majorities in their favor.

"On the other hand the saloon and brewery interests proved their utter inability to protect their friends. The league will ask for a ward local option measure and a search and seizure law to apply to local territory from the next general assembly. The former will meet some opposition, but the latter will be supported by all persons who believe in law enforcement.

"The brewery lobbyists in the last general assembly tried to frighten timid Republican members by claiming that the passage of the Beal law meant calamity for the Republican party. The tremendous Republican majority silences the claim made by pro-saloon people that either party can be injured by passing temperance legislation in harmony with the public sentiment of the state."
